Work for the Y. M. C. A.

On Thursday evening, Nov. 15th, a meeting was held at the Municipal Court room, the speaker being Henry Israel of New York, who is a national Y. M. C. A. worker. His object being to arrange for the raising in Norway and South Paris its quota of the $35,000,000, which was being raised throughout the United States for the work of the Y. M. C. A. among the soldiers.

Mr. Israel spoke for an hour from actual experience in the work among the men at the front and knew first handed just what the Y. M. C. A. meant to those who are in the war zone. His talk was extremely instructive and brought the real situation of the actual existing conditions closely home to his audience by telling of the real things he had witnessed and setting forth the aims of the work in which the association is interested.

Mr. Israel, who has been in England, France and Belgium in the Y. M. C. A. work, gave a very vivid account of the work the Y. M. C. A. is doing in these countries among the soldiers. He spoke briefly of the work as a whole and how that we are at war there is a great work that must be done for the help and comfort of the soldiers.

Among the many things to do is keeping the "hut" of the Y. M. C. A. among the boys both in the cantonment and in the different countries and the trenches. The hut is a resting place and the home for the soldier, it is a place for him to resort to during his leisure moments, it is the place that supplies him with writing material for his letters home, it is where he is given every possible aid and encouragement in his many troubles, it is where he meets his only semblance of home in a foreign land. Here is where he is given a cup of coffee or cocoa or a glass of water, treated with lime to quench the thirst, or is provided with a piece of pie or a few other delicacies that he was accustomed to in his home land. It is here he has the opportunity to read and write under the best of influences.

The secretaries are the friends of the boys and are always present in the time of need, helping the wounded to reach the base hospitals, providing a comfortable bed with common every day linen and providing baths and the like for his comfort, which otherwise is unknown.

To bring these little comforts in themselves seem small, but to the soldiers, far away from home and comforts, is a joy and a big help to him.

The environment in the hut is the best that can be found and the needs of the soldier both physically, morally and spiritually, is not forgotten.

The general arrangement for the soliciting campaign was explained by Alton C. Wheeler of South Paris.

Friday forenoon students in the schools put up the posters throughout the two villages, in all the stores and up and down the streets. During the afternoon small dodgers conveying the message of the Y. M. C. A. drive were distributed to every house and store in the two towns.

Ringing of church bells Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock announced the beginning of the one hour drive to collect the Norway's share, $600.00 of the $35,000,000 in the country wide Y. M. C. A. war fund.

Eight automobiles carrying volunteers from the Sabbath Schools and Boy Scouts assembled at the Second Congregational Church. On the first stroke of the bell, the whirl wind campaign started, each car with flags flying, whizzed away to the specified territory and the collectors entered into their work with a dash.

It required but forty minutes to canvass the corporation outside of the business section and the funds deposited with Eugene N. Swett at the E. N. Swett Shoe store. The money was then taken to the Norway National Bank and counted by Cashier Howard D. Smith and Percy Fogg. At five o'clock it was announced that $270.56 had been turned in, or about $80 a minute being collected during the short time.

Those who furnished cars and assisted in the drive were Rev. Chester G. Miller, Dr. Irwin K. Moorhouse, Dr. Herman L. Bartlett, Ernest B. Jackson, F. Robert Seavey, Elon L. Brown, Howard S. Maxim and Donald Andrews. Alton C. Wheeler of South Paris, county chairman, conducted the business.

Added to this collection will be $240 subscribed on the War Camp Recreation Fund and $55 collected for Red Cross, making a total of $565.56 acquired up to Monday morning.

Danold B. Partridge and Stuart W. Goodwin canvassed the business section, Monday and secured donations that swelled the total to $562.26 for the drive. Norway has thus given $857.26 for war work in seven days.

It has been learned that the previous sum subscribed during the week cannot be included in the apportionment of $1,237.39 for Norway and Paris as they are for a different phase of the work.

RED CROSS NOTES

Some Unpaid Subscriptions

The subscriptions to the Red Cross drive in Norway and vicinity last June have been paid with the exception of about two hundred dollars. As the National headquarters have called for the balance it is imperative that those who have not paid do so at once. Mrs. Hugh Pendexter, local chairman, requests that all such unpaid subscriptions be at once turned over to Frank DeCoster, who holds the signed cards.

Red Cross to Locate Soldiers

You doubtless know that it is the duty of the War Department to send out to the parents or relatives all official notices regarding soldiers who have been killed or wounded. The Red Cross through its Bureau of Communication will supplement these official notices with all the personal information that can possibly be gathered in Europe. Our work will have to do particularly with the "missing" to find out what has actually happened to an individual man. This will mean oftentimes reports from his comrades stating what probably occurred and these reports will be sent as evidence to the families. We shall also endeavor to find out details of death, wounds or illness, whenever the families request this.

If any individual having a relative in Europe will write to the Bureau of Communication of the Red Cross at Washington asking that the name be put on the inquiry files, that person will be promptly informed should and when anything happens. All inquiries as to the welfare of men who, for example, do not write home, will be handled in the future by the Red Cross, even though they may be addressed to the army or to the Y. M. C. A.

Automobile Mixup

Harmon Klain with a Buick truck met Albert L. Clark in a Dodge touring car head on, late Tuesday afternoon at the junction of Main and Marston streets. Both cars were smashed and hauled into the garage nearby.

The accident was the result of suspecting what the other fellow was going to do when he didn't. Harmon thought the approaching car was going to swing up Marston street and failed to keep to the right, both being on the same side, the inevitable happened. Clark's car came out of the wreck with a bent front axle and mud guards badly twisted. The truck suffered broken lights and springs twisted out of place. Neither driver was hurt. It is understood Mr. Klain will pay for the damages.

Basket Ball Materializing

Twenty applicants appeared this week at the practice hour to try out for the Norway High basket ball team. Albert Parker, the coach, has a promising bunch and two teams can easily be picked to represent the school in a fast schedule which Manager Fletcher has prepared.

Captain Descoteau has selected six players for the preliminary at West Paris, Friday evening. They are David A. Klain, Carroll H. Barker, Orin A. Stone, Lloyd C. Fletcher, Howard O. Bennett and Harold A. Thompson. They will be accompanied by Capt. Arthur C. Descoteau and Coach Parker.

The "varsity" outfit will have good weight and already show traits that indicate speed and gray matter after the fine points are assimulated. The heaviest player weighs one hundred and seventy pounds and the lightest close to one hundred and thirty, so there is the necessary avoirdupois upon which to build a winner.

Practice is going on in the Opera House three times a week with every one interested and willing. When the gymnasium is finished the boys will have greater opportunities to develop the game under a setting more favorable to athletic work.

4 More Papers and then it will be Merry Christmas. Have you reserved space in this paper? If not you should do so.

News From England

The following is a letter from Sergeant William S. Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nat Bennett of Norway:

"Somewhere in England"
October 18, 1917.

My dear dad, mumsie, sister and brother:

Well I have been in England a week yesterday and we have drilled just two half days, the rest of the time it has rained. The mud all over the camp is ankle deep now. The sun shone this forenoon, but it is beginning to rain again. It is rather uncomfortable, no stoves in the tents and everything is so damp, but I am well and have been all the time. Of course a quite a few are sick with colds and the measles.

Last Saturday four sergeants in each company were allowed to go to London and I went as I thought I would never have a chance to go there again. I had a pretty good time, saw all the places of interest. It was quite a sight just to see the soldiers going to the front and coming back and they are so cheerful, even those that are wounded are cheerful and of course in London one sees men wounded both by bullets and shell, but they are all well cared for. I was surprised to see the cures that have been made.

A sammy is quite a curiosity in London. Of course a lot go through there, but few stop. Everyone looks at you and says "hello Sammy" or "hello Yank."

There you see all kinds of soldiers and uniforms, the Scots in their kilts, the Indian troops with turbans, the Australians with their jaunty, sporty looking uniforms, but none of the soldiers look so good and healthy as the ones from good old U. S. A., the Australians come the nearest of any of them.

I don't know when we will leave here, but I think it will be before long. Some more Sammies came early this morning. I woke up about three o'clock and heard a band playing. I got up and looked out and some more New England Sams were marching in.

We don't hear any news at all here, but we hear all sorts of rumors. We don't get as much war news as you do at home. But men that have been in the trenches say that it is not so hard there as the papers say it is.

Write and tell me how the crops were and all the other news. Gee! Mumsie, but wouldn't I like to eat supper at home tonight.

(Later)

American Camp
"Somewhere in France"

Dear folks this letter will seem funny no doubt to be reading along where I wish I could eat supper at home and the next line be in an American Training Camp Somewhere in France. But I was writing in Camp Bordon in England and we got orders to pack up and get ready to move and I have not had a chance to write until today, as we got here yesterday about 9 a. m.

Dear Mumsie I got a letter from you today and one from Fern. Yours was dated Sept. 21, and Fern's Sept 23. Gee, but it seemed good to get letters from home, as it is pretty lonesome so far from home in a foreign land and where people speak a strange language. I am well and have got a good room and a good bed. We are in a very old French town. A few men are quartered in a place, mostly in barns and sheds. I was in a house, but it was damp and cold and awfully crowded, so last night Sergeant Brackett and I went and hired the room I am now in. It is a large room on the ground floor. Our host can speak a little English. The houses are very funny, mostly stone with stone roofs. The people seem to be quite poor, but are very kind to us.

I would tell you more about the place, but don't want to write anything that might give the enemy any information if it should fall into their hands.

Dear folks if you send me anything for Christmas, just send me some Prince Albert tobacco and a pair of woolen socks. Someone pinched a pair of shoes and one pair of my heavy socks out of my barrack bag on the boat. It is very cold here and rains a lot. Do not send much "tobac", but I would like a little. Tell me all the news and how you are getting along. I shall be glad when I am home and when I am I shall stay believe me. Is Mr. and Mrs. Mundy still there? I hope they are. How many times I have thought how very kind they were to come to Westfield. Give them my best regards.

It has been very tiresome for the last month as we have been moving all the time about, but we settle down to work the real way.

There is no news to tell so will close hoping my dear folks are well and happy.

Osma Abbott of Berlin, N. H., has been a recent guest of his sister, Mrs. Freeman Frost.

Walter Buck says, "You are misinformed. Instead of receiving $1,200 for my apples I got barely $500 and went right to the bank and paid some of my debts."

Invitations are out for the wedding reception of Mildred Emma French and Scott Stephen Pottle, Dec. 1st, at 8 p. m., at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester G. French at Norway.

NOT DUE TO SEX ALONE

Norway Women Have Learned The Cause of Many Mysterious Pains and Aches.

Many women have come to know that sex isn't the reason for all backaches, dizzy headaches and urinary disorders. Men have these troubles, too, and often they come from kidney weakness. To live simply, eat sparingly, take better care of one's self and to use Doan's Kidne Pills, is bound to help bad kidneys get better. There is no other remedy so well-recommended by Norway people. Read this case:

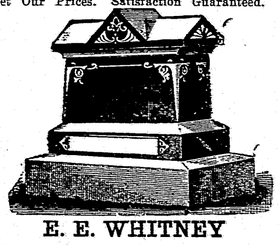

Mrs. Myrtie Payne Hazen St., Norway, says: "A few years ago I was having pains across my back and kidneys. They annoyed me very much and on stooping or lifting, I felt them more. I found Doan's Kidney Pills very good for this trouble. As I used them, the pains gradually lessened and soon I as practically free from the trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills are surely worthy of recommendation."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Payne had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

We have this new line in two styles, one of them is about 12 inches in height, all rubber and made on a narrow last to fit narrow feet, the other kind are about 11 inches and are wide. The price of the 12 inch is $4.50, 11 inch $4.00. They will take the place of rubber boots in many instances.

NOT DUE TO SEX ALONE

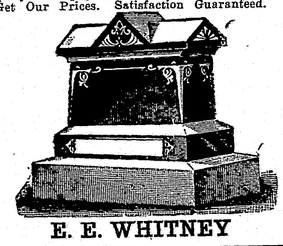

Norway Women Have Learned The Cause of Many Mysterious Pains and Aches.

Many women have come to know that sex isn't the reason for all backaches, dizzy headaches and urinary disorders. Men have these troubles, too, and often they come from kidney weakness. To live simply, eat sparingly, take better care of one's self and to use Doan's Kidney Pills, is bound to help bad kidneys get better. There is no other remedy so well-recommended by Norway people. Read this case:

Mrs. Myrtie Payne Hazen St., Norway, says: "A few years ago I was having pains across my back and kidneys. They annoyed me very much and on stooping or lifting, I felt them more. I found Doan's Kidney Pills very good for this trouble. As I used them, the pains gradually lessened and soon I as practically free from the trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills are surely worthy of recommendation."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Payne had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Reception to National W. R. C. President

Mrs. W. R. Tarbox, National President, Ladies G. A. R. and her secretary, Mrs. A. B. Perkins of Augusta, were in Belfast, Tuesday, where Mrs. Tarbox was the guest of honor at a reception given by Thomas H. Marshall Post and T. H. Marshall Circle, Ladies' G. A. R. It was one of the most delightful affairs of the season and was certainly very complementary to Mrs. Tarbox, who was a native of Belfast and who taught school there several years.

Men, women and children were delighted to have the opportunity to personally congratulate Mrs. Tarbox on the great honor that had been bestowed on her. Memorial Hall, one of the prettiest in the state, was beautifully decorated with fir trees, cut flowers and flags galore. In the receiving line with Mrs. Tarbox was Mrs. Bridges, president of T. H. Marshall Circle, all the past presidents, Mrs. Perkins, National secretary, past and present post commanders, R. S. Curtis, Division Commander, Sons of Veterans, and several others.

Everyone present expressed the great pleasure that was felt in Belfast when they learned that one who belonged to Maine and especially to Belfast and was so loyal to every thing pertaining to it as Mary Reardon Tarbox always had been was the choice of so many for the high office she was called to fill.

A touching incident was the presentation to Mrs. Tarbox of a beautiful bouquet of roses from three comrades, members of T. H. Marshall Post, who were in the same regiment with her father, the 4th Maine Regiment. The Circle and other friends presented Mrs. Tarbox many beautiful flowers. Delicious ices and cakes were served.

Mrs. Tarbox in responding, said, "this reception would in a way mean far more to her than any of the numerous ones that would be tendered during the year," explained how much was being done for the soldier boys by her Circles, also of constant care and love for the Veterans, and closed with a most eloquent tribute to the flag.

HARKEN BACK ON THE PAST

Twenty-four Years Ago This Week

The Senior class of Colby University have elected V. M. Whitman, orator, Freeland Howe, Jr., ode committee.

Dr. C. A. Stephens of the Youth's Companion, returned last Saturday after a week's hunting trip to Mt. Katahdin. He brought with him the head and pelt of a deer and several nice pieces of venison. He shot three deer.

While W. C. Cole was at work shingling the roof of the old pulp mill at the Falls, Friday afternoon, the top staging broke and he commenced to slide down the roof. The second and third stagings also broke, but the last one held him. It is fortunate it did for it saved William a fall of some 60 feet into the river. He repaired the stagings and in 10 minutes was back where he started from and hard at work.

Chester Flint recently discovered an old coon and three young ones up a beech tree. He captured them all.

Capt. W. V. Bickford of Thomaston will be the landlord at the Beals Hotel for the next five years. The captain is a veteran in the hotel business as well as in the war.

J. Waldo Nash, the life insurance agent of Norway, is mounting a fine Pileated woodpecker for E. C. Henley of North Waterford. The Pileated is the largest of the woodpecker family and with its black body and red head makes a fine appearance. Mr. Nash has had fifteen years of experience in that line and does fine work, both on birds and animals, especially deer heads, and has fitted up a room in the rear of his office next the Advertiser office, where in his leisure time he will do some of this work for parties wishing it.

Judge Wm. F. Jones and Howard L. Drake spent Saturday in the Jones camp at Stoneham, returning Sunday afternoon. Asa Richardson was in charge of the store in Ward 8 during their absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Russell of Yarmouthville, passed the week-end with C. Elmer Russell and family.

Randall O. Porter returned from Bath, Saturday night after spending several days there looking over the proposition of establishing an Atherton Furniture Co. branch. In Norway this hustling young man is considered a law abiding American citizen with no inclination to plot against democracy. Apparently a person or persons sized him up differently while he was poking around Bath with an armful of manuscript looking over vacant stores and tabulating a mailing list. The second day on the job Randall was held up by a Secret Service agent who wanted to know his business and was not satisfied until proper credentials were produced. This circumstance does not cast reflections on Randall's nationality or resemblance to "Kulture" extraction, but goes to show the care Uncle Sam has over the military and ship building industries.

ALBANY

They enjoyed their calls very much. They are to go after their cattle the first of the week. It is a drive of 40 miles or more.

Flint Bros. have laid their faithful old horse, "Prince" to rest, a very human act we think. Many have done the same with their horses this fall.

Charles Hersey and son were this way, Saturday, soliciting funds for the church. They met with fair success.

Mrs. Wm. Fiske visited her mother in South Waterford one day last week and a cousin whom she had never seen, who was stopping with her mother.

DON'T THINK THAT WE FORGET YOU

When you are sailing on the deep,
O soldier boys from home.
When you are far in distant lands,
Wherever you may roam,
Don't think that we forget you
Or that we ever let you
Go from our hearts and loving thoughts,
O soldier boys from home!

The dangers that you bravely face,
O soldier boys from home,
The perils lurking for your lives
Beneath the ocean's foam,
All make you to us dearer
And draw our hearts the nearer,
Remember that we miss you still,
O soldier boys from home!

Whatever hardships come to you,
O soldier boys from home,
Whatever loneliness shall cloud
The weary miles you roam,
Don't think that we forget you
Or that we ever let you
Go from our hearts and loving thoughts,
O soldier boys from home!

THE RED, WHITE AND BLUE

Red, 'tis red,
Red as the morn's bright light,
Red as the blood which flowed from our land,
Yet all of them fell for our flag so grand,
Which now is flying in liberty's hand.

White, pure white,
White as the winter snow,
White as the strip of flag they bore,
When after hard battles, sick and sore,
They clung to the flag, which they love ever more.

Blue, true blue,
Blue as the summer sky,
Blue as the coats of the soldiers brave,
Who for our land their lives they gave
And her flag they fell to save.

These verses of the "Red, White and Blue" were written by the nine year old grandson of an old schoolmate of Mrs. F. A. Danforth, many years after the close of the Civil war, in which his grandfather lost his life. This lad grown to manhood and with wife and son and with his love for the Flag still strong decided last summer to enlist in its defence and he sends to us his reason for doing so,—called My Debt,—or The Debt.

I have a debt that I must pay—
My cuntry calls her loans today,
No longer may her sons delay.

I have a debt, and stand aghast.
I had not known before, how vast
This debt, I owe the stalwart past.

To all the mother hearts that bled,
The courage of unnumbered dead,
The blood of countless heroes shed.

That bought me freedom, joy and life,
Unclouded by the storm of strife,
Untrammeled by the drum and fife.

So, should they list me with the dead,
I would my friends be comforted,
And say, he went with lifted head.

Though not for fame, nor unafraid—
His country called, a loan she made,
And like an honest man, he paid.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Again the gates have swung ajar and Sister Helen Howe Buswell has gone quickly and quietly from our Grange to the life eternal beyond. We have watched Sister Buswell from a tiny child, have seen her in her graceful girlhood, then the mature woman, and could she have lived we would have seen her as a perfect wife and mother. She gave of her time and talent always, even when illness forbade it. Her cheery smile and kind words will long be remembered by us all, therefore be it,

Resolved, that in the death of Sister Buswell that Norway Grange has met an irreparable loss, and that we as an entire Grange extend our love and sympathy to the bereaved husband, the tiny daughter, and the entire family.

Be it resolved, that these resolutions be spread on our records, that a copy be sent to the family, also a copy to the Norway Advertiser for publication.

Fast Wrestling Show Carded

Wilfred Barrett of Michigan guarantees to throw Homer Truman, the Maine champion, three times in an hour or forfeit the purse at Norway Opera House, Tuesday evening, Nov. 27. Barrett is second best middle weight wrestler of the world at 170 pounds and stands in line to cop the championship belt from Kilonis of Boston. Truman's ability to take care of himself is widely known, and the wrestler who can do the three fall stunt on him in sixty minutes must wear a blue ribbon.

John Kilonis, world's champion, will attend the match and challenge the winner for a championship decision. Legendre of Lewiston, a well known sporting promotor will be on hand to look the kids over for future talent.

Omar King of Island Pond, Vt., and McGinley of South Paris will come together in the semi-final at 130 pounds. Both are experienced wrestlers and will give a well matched bout.

In the preliminary George Bean of Waterford and Charlie Howe of North Waterford try out in this 135 pound class. Collar and elbow wrestling is the game, best two in three.

This is no baby show or work out exhibition, but a real athletic event. W. Frank Stairs, the manager, promises a clean, on the level contest in every event. While at Bangor recently, he secured bookings of prominent wrestlers and boxers who are willing to stage a show in Norway if the patronage would warrant.

Kid Brown's challenge in a Lewiston paper has been accepted by Soldier Katron of Fort Levett and will cover a side bet from $100 to $500 if necessary. If the public desire, this bout will be pulled off here, otherwise it goes to Lewiston under Legendre's management.

Wilfred Barrett has finished a western trip where he cleaned up a $1500 purse in Detroit, Mich., recently. For two years he has been meeting all comers through Canada without a single defeat. His picture is on exhibition in Lewis J. Brooks' store window.

Dr. J. W. Haxby of Clarinda, Iowa, recently made a short visit with Mrs. Carrie Dinsmore and daughter, Mrs. Victor M. Whitman of Pleasant street, the mother and sister of Mrs. Haxby. Dr. Haxby came east to see his son, John W. Haxby, Jr., who enlisted in the Iowa Infantry, which sailed from New York for Europe, but returned to this country because of an accident to one of the ship's boilers. Young Haxby wired his father on reaching port and his father immediately came to see his son, and came to Norway to see his wife's people. He will stop at New York on his return to the west to spend a few hours with his son, who expects "soon" to set sail again.

ANGELS OF THE RED CROSS

Angel of mercy! yea thou art,
From a many a sadly burdened heart
The dark clouds lift before thy smile;
And close beside, O stay a while,

To bathe the burning fevered brow,
Gently smooth the tumbled pillow;
To parched lips lift cooling drink
Ere they into the darkness sink.

And when the silver cord is loosed,
With scalding fears our eyes suffused,
Still a victory may be won
If we humbly say, "Thy will be done."

God bless the workers, one and all,
As they bravely answer their country's call;
Greater love hath no man than this
That for his friend's life, he giveth his.

Seemeth now our Lord is sleeping
As once He slept on Galilee?
His disciples waked Him weeping,
For them He rose and stilled the sea.

All the world shall obey His will
When He commandeth "Peace be still,"
War with its terrors no more shall reign,
When the "Lion of Judah" shall break the chain.

Thousands of Children Have Worms

Their parents do not know it

Grown folks are subject to worms also.

The one best remedy is Dr. True's Elixir, the family Laxative and Worm Expeller. Good for adults also. NUX, IRON, PEPSIN AND SARSAPARILLA

The combination of two great medicines, Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptiron, by taking them in conjunction, one before eating and the other after, brings into co-operation the above-named substances, best for the blood, nerves and digestive organs.

This combination is especially recommended in cases that are scrofulous, or rheumatic, anemic and nervous, or where the blood is both impure and pale, deficient in iron—one of the most common disease conditions of the present day.

In cases where a laxative is needed, Hood's Pills should be taken. They work in perfect harmony with Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptiron, and are mild and efficient.

HAS MAINE A HISTORY? IF SO, IS IT OF CONSEQUENCE?

(Editorial in Sprague's Journal of Maine History)

Two false ideas relative to the importance of a knowledge of Maine history, we believe, are more or less prevalent among Maine people: (a) That because the ancient Province of Maine became a District, that for a time was under the political jurisdiction of Massachusetts, we have no distinct place in early American history. (b) That even if we have a history it is not of consequence, interest or value to any but lovers of anything that is antique and venerable; its usefulness in the work of today being, at most, only negligible.

A plain statement of the first proposition refutes itself. From the times of Waymouth and the Pophams to these days of Oakley Curtis and Carl Milliken, Maine has had a continuous record of events that are potential parts of the history of democracy in the world.

From the early years of the seventeenth century when the explorers, colonists and missionaries first began the making of American history, until 1775, people of the old world were coming to the new world, and coming here to Maine, for a shelter from tyranny and oppression. They subdued a wilderness and replaced it with homes, fortresses and fertile fields. Thus they came here to Maine, as to other parts of the north Atlantic coast, with bare hands, but with hearts full of longings for freedom that was then only a dream, and for liberty they knew not how to use.

The development of representative government was a slow process. It was, at best, only an experiment. It was a political ideal that startled and amazed the greatest statemanship and most profound philosophy of the entire world. Our plan was unlike any other that had before been known. It was a government system outside of all known precedents, "without an example, ancient or modern."

The question of its success or failure centered around one single problem; whether or not man was capable of self-government.

In this way did the roots of democracy commence to sprout in this strange soil; a thirst for individual liberty. For many former centuries man had had a sovereign to direct him in his religious duties, and blood and treasure had flowed continuously to force him to pursue what his rulers conceived to be the right course. This new undertaking allowed him to choose his own religion and his own prayer book, or none at all, as his own conscience might dictate, and he was to be his own sovereign.

In 1782 the highest intellect and shrewdest judgment of the world sincerely believed that this scheme was doomed to collapse. Its success could only be demonstrated by actualities; the day of theories was done; the hour of facts had struck. The leaders in this majestic adventure constituted the most glorious band of patriots that humanity has ever known. But Washington and Hamilton, and Jefferson, and Adams and all their great compeers were themselves alone powerless to solve the problem of self-government. The men who built log houses and cleared up farms, who run stores, taverns, saw-mills, stages and cooper shops, were the only ones who could prove to the world that man could govern himself without a king.

And so, in all parts of the American colonies, from the Carolinas to the Penobscot, it was in the homes of these grim old pioneers that we find the roots of democracy. It was these first settlers and their descendants, here in Maine, whose sacrifices and toil laid the foundations for a great state, and for its prosperous towns and cities, who helped work out this problem for all mankind.

The story of their lives is a part of the glorious record of man's supreme achievement in finally making himself capable of self-government. Their history is a part of the history of the world's struggle between despotism and freedom; it is the tale of the progress of humanity. And yet, there are many in Maine today who do not appear to perceive that such a history is of worth and inspiration to the present generation. It is full of fascination, but they see it not. It inspires patriotism and a love for their own state, but they know it not. Neither do they seem to realize that the educational system of Maine in not making town, country and state history a part of its regular course in every school, is doing a flagrant injustice to the youth of our state.

"NEWS" PLEASE PUBLISH

Seldom is there a day passes but what the mail brings to the office of the newspapers a vast amount of material which some firm or organization wants printed for them, but do not want to pay for it—it's just a news item, but so savory is it often times with pure advertising that the use of a magnifying glass would be needed to find the news item portion.

Many of the letters so sent have real merit in themselves and are for many a deserving cause, but when a paper is using all it can along those different lines, it can do no more.

The logic of bradding the free ox, because the other won't pull anyway, was never so tremendously overdone as today in "letting the press do it." Everybody from the government down, who awakens to his or her "bit" jumps up to urge the press to do it—and save expense to them.

Many of these applicants for free transportation of their ideas to others are entirely innocent. They are convinced of the merit of their propaganda and see no reason why the newspapers should not use it in place of some of the things they do use.

Others are not so innocent. They know that every inch has a basic cost. They know that honest advertisers are willing to pay that basic cost and a "fair profit" for the sake of reaching the public. But these unfair propagandists and selfish advertisers pay big salaries to experts to disguise their advertising as "news" and secure its circulation free.

The various departments of government go to enormous expense in some directions (colored posters for recruits for army and navy, as an instance of for help "wanted" and balk at the point upon which the whole success of their advertising depends—consistent advertising in the press.

Every recruiting station floods the newspapers with its appeals for volunteers. Friends of the Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross fill the mails from all directions for free space in aid of their good work. A thousand and one war fund organizations—Belgian relief, Serbian relief, Armenian relief, Polish relief, relief for blind soldiers, relief for orphaned children, French war fund—have sprung into life; scores of organizations under different names, each doing meritorious work, but so many appeals come in all directions, state wide and nation wide, until one has to draw a line and use what to him seems best for the amount of space allotted for this work.

"They are ALL worthy," you say. True, but should the publisher bear the whole expense, and what should we do with all this tremendous mass that is dumped upon us? If we used half of it there would not be a line of news in your paper.

Never has a publisher seen a time when such demand has been made upon newspaper space as today. And never has the basic cost of an inch of newspaper space been so great. There are no opportunities for "war profits" in the newspaper business. Good newspapers are receiving war wounds, many times fatal, in every month that war prices prevail.

LATEST KIND OF BISCUITS

Recently an Oxford county couple invited another couple who were neighbors and friends to take supper with them, one of the special objects being to sample some bran bread on which the hostess somewhat prided herself.

The bread came on in the form of deliciously browned hot rolls and the butter was promptly applied. But after taking a bite, Mr. Smith, the guest, laid his roll down and addressed himself to the other things on the menu.

"I judge you don't like my bran bread, Mr. Smith," remarked the hostess.

"Oh yes, it is good, but I am not feeling particularly hungry tonight," said Mr. Smith.

Up to this time the hostess had been diligently attending to the wants of her guests, and had not herself partaken of the rolls. When she finally took a taste, she looked across the table to her husband and asked:

"Henry, have you moved that sack of bran in the storehouse?"

"Why, yes," said he, "I set it over the other side of the doorway."

"Then what is that sack where the bran used to be?"

"Why, that's the 'Lay or Bust' that we feed to the hens."

CHAMOIS SKIN FOR WINDOWS

Two pieces of chamois skin and a basin or pail of warm water are the best means for cleaning windows that the housekeeper knows of, so she says. One chamois skin she wrings out of the warm water and uses for washing the windows. With the other she dries them. She finds the chamois skins far superior to the ordinary rags and says that, if they are kept clean, they will last a long time. She uses the same method and materials for cleaning mirrors and finds them satisfactory.

$40,000 Fire at Mechanic Falls

The plant of the Colonial Paper Co., a three-story brick structure, erected more than 25 years ago, was burned. The loss was estimated at $40,000. Crossed electrical wires were believed to have been the cause.

The mill plant employed 30 hands; manufacturing druggists' rolls, adding machine rolls, etc., from paper made by another company.

What Gift Can Compare With Norway Advertiser

If it cost a consideration, how could you possibly make your good wishes felt, throughout an entire year, for so trivial a sum.

If the decision turns on sentiment, how will it be possible to keep alive your own memory better than by placing before your friend, week by week, the happenings of Oxford County, or of that part of it which is or has been your home and his.

If a practical gift is sought, what could be of more actual value than week by week information of what is going on in Oxford County, that section in which has occurred and will occur more events of vital interest to you and your friends than all the world besides.

Every consideration makes "The Norway Advertiser" the gift among gifts, to anyone who lives or has ever lived in Oxford County.

Rates: 4 mos., 50 cents; 6 mos., 75 cents; 8 mos., $1.00; 12 mos., $1.50; 16 mos., $2.00. Credit extended for only one year. Address: Advertiser, Norway, Me.

Big Drive for Y. M. C. A.

Under the direction of the local chairman Alton C. Wheeler, sixteen automobiles with collectors from the Sabbath Schools, assembled at Deering Memorial Church Sunday afternoon and as bells and whistle announced four o'clock the big drive started with a dash.

Posters and flyers had been distributed several days before and the public were well informed. The village was divided into small district to allow systematic and rapid canvass. Each unit reported to the Paris Trust Co., the last to arrive was Walter L. Gray and five solicitors who covered Paris Hill village and reported to headquarters in fifty minutes.

The total collection was $524.20 with the business to be worked Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Swett start on their long journey Monday and will spend the winter with their daughter, Mrs. S. B. Locke, who is not in good health. Mr. Locke is in the U. S. forestry service and is located in Moab, thirty-five miles from a railroad.

The Sons of Veterans entertained as guests members of the Grand Army and the Relief Corps, Friday evening. After the business session a short program was given. CLIMBED STAIRS ON HER HANDS

Too Ill to Walk Upright. Operation Advised. Saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This woman now raises chickens and does manual labor. Read her story:

Richmond, Ind.—"For two years I was so sick and weak with troubles from my age that when going up stairs I had to go very slowly with my hands on the steps, then sit down at the top to rest. The doctor said he thought I should have an operation, and my friends thought I would not live to move into our new house. My daughter asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had taken it with good results. I did so, my weakness disappeared, I gained in strength, moved into our new home, did all kinds of garden work, shoveled dirt, did building and cement work, and raised hundreds of chickens and ducks. I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and if these facts are useful you may publish them for the benefit of other women."—Mrs. M. O. SOUTH WATERFORD.

Excursion No. 1

For more than two years past your correspondent has been, in consequence of accidental injuries, much confined to his home, venturing only once as far away as Bridgton. But on Sept. 28, he, accompanied by, or chaperoned by three lady residents of Oak Lodge, viz., Mrs. Mary Howard, Elsina and Lena York, in the auto car and under the chauffeurship of Ralph Willard, formed a visiting party starting southward about 8 o'clock with the ultimate purpose of reaching before noon, that neighborhood of Casco known from old time as "Shadigee" which is close by or identical with Rigby Park.

At the outset I announced my desire to make a number of brief calls enroute at the residences of friends, which purpose was accomplished satisfactorily and very happily by brief interviews with Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Dawes in the shelter of their spacious barn, while a gentle rain was falling. Thence we skipped about a mile over to Charles A. Whitney's and interviewed him and Roscoe and Mae in the dooryard with skies yet weeping, for a few minutes. Sorry Julia, the mater guardian genius of the home was absent. The next stage of our journey was at Scribner's Mills, where we enjoyed a short chat with Jesse and wife, grandma and the children being all absent, she visiting her son's and daughter's families at East Hiram and they at Norway High and Maple Ridge schools. Our Scribner interview was in the barn, from which we retreated and sped across into Otisfield and bowled swiftly over the sightly road through "Tamworth" in view of Porcupine Hill and Oak Hill, and very soon were in the county road and arriving at Spurr's Corner where cordial greetings were exchanged with our cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barrows and Mrs. Ada Spurr, and all too soon we turned on the fifth stage of our trip which was via Hancockville and Gould's Corner towards Mayberry Hill.

The approach to this portion of our route is enchanting with its environs of woods, Lake Pleasant and beautiful farms and dwellings. We soon found ourselves at the elegant home of Mrs. Israel Jordan, daughter Cynthia, and son, Arthur. Then, for the first time since leaving home we alighted and received very pleasant welcoming greetings from our friends. After a half hour interview during which we were entertained with generous gifts of delicious apples and geranium and fuchsia slips for planting and mutual kindly compliments, we resumed the next and final stage of our journey over Mayberry Hill, down through Casco village and to our destination via Pike's Corner.

Our final goal was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hall Edwards, the former residence for many years of Eliphalet Sylvester, and consists of a large farm, very side hilly and stone-wally, but exceedingly addicted to luxuriant grass and green fields and thrifty orchards, very productive of Baldwin and other valuable kinds of apples.

Bald Mountain covered by a thrifty growth of oak fronts the Edwards home to the east. Space or the lack thereof, forbids further mention of the delightful situation and environs of this charming homestead hidden away from neighboring view among hills and forests. It is the intensely human and kindly quality of this rare home that attracts the sincere admiration and reverence of such as are acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, for they are the impersonators of the sacred qualities referred to which constitute the soul of the home. Within the present year they have given their hearts and home to the reception of two aged and needy women relatives, Mrs. Marion T. Sylvester, widow of Ezekiel J. Sylvester, many years resident of Otisfield. Mrs. Sylvester is in her 95th year and in comfortable health of body and mind. She is the friend whom we came visiting especially, but after we got there I was surprised to learn that Mrs. Marcia Cook, whose home is opposite Rigby Park, is also a beneficiary of the benevolence of the Edwards relatives. Mrs. Cook is a victim of paralysis and confined helplessly to her bed, thus the responsibilities assumed by the Edwards family in affording complete asylum to these needy and deserving widowed friends is worthy of highest appreciation. Our visit to this beautiful home and its esteemed friends was enjoyed beyond expression, and about 3 p. m., under a sunny sky, we departed homeward via Naples and Bridgton.

Excursion No. 2

On Thursday, Nov. 15, the same Oak Lodge party excursioned to Norway. The Scribe was the chief beneficiary. We went with Ralph. My first stop was at the Advertiser office, hoping to see the Editor in chief, in which I was much disappointed, but I had a very enjoyable visit with my friends, the assistant editor and Mr. Cummings of the printing department and called on a number of dear friends in the new postoffice and elsewhere The two great particular features of renovated Norway are its splendid Main street and its grand new postoffice, they would do credit to any modern city, which I expect Norway will become sometime.

Maynard Moors and family of Auburn, visited their relatives at Oak Lodge, Sunday by automobile.

Knights of Pythias Hall building has been moved to its designated site near the spring.

A Poverty Party will be held in Grange Hall Thursday evening, Nov. 29. All laces, ribbons, silks, satins, velvets, jewelry or any variety of dress is forbidden and any person indulging will be fined. Entertainment at 8, doughnuts and coffee will be served at 9:30. The party is for the benefit of the church.

NORTH WATERFORD

A Spasm

The hull corn supper and grange spasm, Nov. 17, at Grange Hall was a success. Although not largely attended, it was a very enthusiastic crowd. The supper and sale of hull corn netted them a tidy sum and the ladies in charge should have full credit for this enjoyable evening.

One of the pleasing features was a monologue by Annie Hazelton, followed by an interesting reading by Rilla Marston. Next in order was dancing. Guy Morse presided at the organ in an efficient manner and Linwood Flint played the violin. The dancers were busy for three hours. Visitors from several nearby towns joined in the fun.

The Grangers are even now, planning for another good time in the near future.
